Car H4 9003 Headlight Relay Harness Wire Halogen Ceramic Controller Connector SocketDescription:

this harness fixes: dim headlights back feeding power flickering headlights malfunctioning headlights when using hi/low beams overloading the headlight switch overheating plugs
this is a h4/9003 12v headlight conversion wiring harness with hi heat ceramic plugs for cars that have upgraded halogen or xenon h4 bulbs.
h4 2 headlight harness for headlight interchange: h4 conversions h6024 headlights the stock headlight switch cannot handle the necessary power needed to light the hi watt halogen bulbs so headlights overload the headlight switch and end up making the lights dim, flicker, or turn off. this harness bypasses the power draw from the headlight switch and pulls the power directly from the cars battery, but still uses the stock headlight switch to activate the relays to turn the headlights on and off.
the ceramic plugs won't melt like standard plastic plugs will from the higher heat that halogen bulbs put out.
this harness is a direct plug and plug with all the correct factory style plugs for the high and low beam headlights!

package include:

1x h4 relay harness

Well made. I am using it to upgrade headlights on my old Jeep which has sealed beams. Relays are a must. Rediculously cheap!

I was not expecting the quality of the product to be very high, but I was wrong. Wires seem to be either 14 or 12 gauge and of good quality. Plugs are also of very good quality!!! Very happy with purchase.

H4 harness looks good. But it comes in a box labeled as a Horn relay wiring harness.
